Biotree™

Celebrate life with a living memorial in the form of a tree. The Biotree Urn is designed to shape a greener planet by changing our traditions from that of graves to those of forests. The Biotree Urn is made using bamboo fibers and a food-grade binding agent. The system, including the cork-separator and cocopeat disc that becomes the medium in which the tree will grow, help to lower the pH level of cremated remains, allowing the tree to grow.

Separates easily to load cremated remains in the bottom and closes securely.

We take great care in selecting tree species that are harmonious to your local environment, complementing the unique ecosystem that surrounds them, and creating a living tribute for those who now rest at their roots. A certificate is provided with each Biotree Urn, which families can redeem to receive their free tree seeds or discounted memorial tree sapling.

Bury an Urn, Plant a Tree.

While most of our products are not designed to be permanent, a loved one can be remembered for many lifetimes by planting a tree above where you bury a Passages® urn or scatter the cremated remains. Simply ask your funeral director for a tree certificate and directions on how to redeem a live tree (12" sapling) online. For more details on the Memorial Tree Program, see the page immediately preceding the Green Burial & Cremation section of this catalog.

Memorial Pendant

Memorial Medallions

Memorial Medallions are a great way to permanently remember a loved one. The 25 gram solid bronze medallions with original "Tree of Life" artwork are a tangible way to remember loved ones long after they are gone. Engrave the back of the Medallions and hand them out at funeral or memorial services, or keep one close by as a remembrance. Memorial Pendants are also available on a leather cord, and can adorn many of our urns that are not suitable for engraving.
